

Software Development Engineer C++/Qt

Job description

As a Software Development Engineer, you will take part in:

- The creation of specifications and design in compliance with medical standards
- The development and maintenance of our applications, and future innovative projects (IHM C++/Qt)
- The optimization of our algorithms, the evolution of our tools
- The verification, validation, and production of our applications
- The creation and updatation of documentations
- The exchanges with other teams (France & USA), including the technical support and needs analysis

Required profile

- Graduate of a software engineering school or equivalent, with 2-5 years experience as a Software Engineer C++/Qt, ideally in the medical domain
- You are rigorous, curious, autonomous, have a good team spirit, and are interested in new technologies
- You are at ease with IHM development and 3D geometry
- You are proficient in tools like SVN, Redmine, etc.,
- Skills in the following domains are a plus: Standard 62304, Deep Learning, DICOM, OpenGL
- You are proficient in English

Job location: Grenoble area, France

Start date: Immediate

Contact: recrutement@imactis.com

IMACTIS offers interventional radiologists a guidance solution that improves the precision of their procedures by reducing radiation. CT-Navigation™ is the undisputed market leader, with nearly 10,000 procedures performed in Europe and the USA. www.imactis.com